THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA in Grand Forks has a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Marketing vacancy with appointment beginning Spring or Fall, 2016. Applicants should have the PhD in Marketing or related field (ABD considered), a commitment to excellence in scholarship and teaching, and overall abilities to contribute to a growing undergraduate program in Marketing. The Department consists of six (6) full-time faculty offering a complete complement of undergraduate courses, with approximately 100 students in the major (165 pre-Marketing). The Department resides in the Page Family Marketing Center, including a multi-purpose conference room, student break-out room, and a state-of-the-art computer lab. View College and Department physical facilities and faculty profiles at http://business.und.edu/. The Department can accommodate a wide range of teaching/research interests, but candidates who are interested in integrated marketing communications and consumer behavior are especially encouraged to apply. Opportunities for interaction with the business community in the region are excellent and encouraged. The Department and College are particularly interested in candidates who have expertise in or interest in areas of critical importance to the State of North Dakota and the region such as energy, health care, entrepreneurship, or advanced technology. The Department contributes to a stable MBA program (100 candidates) that offers delivery through a synchronous campus and online system. The College enrolls approximately 730 majors (1050 pre-Business) among seven fields (Marketing, Management, Accountancy, Finance, Economics, Political Science and Public Administration, and Entrepreneurship), and is home to the Center for Innovation (including incubators and conference facilities) and a new School of Entrepreneurship. Along with a strong liberal arts mission, the University includes schools of Law, Medicine, Engineering and the nation’s leading Aerospace training program. Grand Forks, a community of about 60,000, is a regional center for economic and cultural activities, with ready interstate-access to Minneapolis-St. Paul, and Winnipeg. The Department prides itself on maintaining a collegial environment with balanced assignments. Salary and terms of appointment negotiable and commensurate with qualifications. Representatives will be available for initial discussions at the AMA Summer Educator’s Conference in Chicago. Please send electronically or via mail a letter of application, transcripts and vita, teaching and research statements, and three reference letters to: Dr. Mary K. Askim-Lovseth, Professor and Chair, Dept. of Marketing—Box 8366, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, ND, 58202-8366, maskim@business.und.edu. Position will be open until filled.
Applicants are invited to provide information regarding their gender, race and/or ethnicity, veteran’s status and disability status on the form found at http://und.edu/affirmative-action/apcontrolcard.cfm. Government agencies require us to collect this information and file periodic reports. The data collected enables us to analyze our hiring processes, and to ensure equal employment opportunity. The information will not be available to individuals involved in the hiring process and is kept separate from your application so that it remains confidential. Providing the information is voluntary and will not affect your employment application.

The University of North Dakota is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. The University of North Dakota encourages applications from women and minorities.

The University of North Dakota determines employment eligibility through the E-Verify System.

North Dakota veterans' preference does not apply to this position.

This position is subject to a criminal history background check.