Progress Update

Construction on the UND Nistler CoBPA has officially started! Recently the site has been cleared, topsoil has been removed, and job trailers have arrived. The site fence has been extended into the quad between Merrifield Hall and the Chester Fritz Library. Excavation for the building has begun and will continue for a few weeks. We are very excited that construction has officially begun!

Safety Topic

Students back on campus

It's that time of year again to welcome back students for the fall semester at UND. Due to this, we will be seeing much more activity on campus near the site. It is very important to recognize the new hazards we face with more activity on the streets. Some of these hazards include:

- be aware of students crossing streets
 - Drive with extra caution due to increased traffic
 - Be sure to look both ways when crossing street
- Everybody stay safe and enjoy the warm weather!

Project Countdown: 89 Weeks to Certificate of Occupancy

Quality Corner

Third party geotechnical inspection and testing has been happening on site to verify the bearing conditions of the existing subgrade at the bottom of the excavation. Next week nuclear density testing of the engineered backfill will start to validate the fill is compacted to the proper densities.
